MARKET WAS FIRM

New York, Dec. 22.—Stock market tradition was preserved today when leading stocks were bid up in all sections of the list of the final session before the Christmas holiday. Short interests, who had sold stocks freely on the theory that the market was due for another sharp reaction before the first of the year, appeared less confident and their covering operations contributed to the rise in many stocks. The manner in which stocks were bid up plainly indicated that present holders were not particularly desirous of selling at prevailing prices.

Baldwin and Studebaker, two of the most popular speculative favorites, led the advance in the standard industrial shares, the former being pushed up 2 1/2 points and the latter touching 139 and then dropping to 137 1/4, where it was up 3/4 on the day. Ford Motor stock closed more than 4 points on official confirmation of reports that Henry Ford was negotiating for the property. Considerable interest was shown by the financial community in the announcement that Corn Products common stock which had been trading at 11 1/2, had been placed on a regular $6 basis and that an additional cash dividend of $1 had been declared.

Fisher Body, which has been mounting to higher ground for several months, established another new peak today at 115, but dropped to 113 1/2, where it was up 1/2 on the day. This stock has been bought in the open market by W. C. Durant, automobile manufacturer, who has been selling it in small units on a partial payment plan. The controlling interest in the Fisher Body corporation is owned by the General Motors Corp., of which Mr. Durant was formerly the head.

United States Steel was quite active but closed at the slightly lower figure. Crucible and Gulf States Steels each moved up more than a point but Republic and Bethlehem B were heavy, the latter named dropping below 60 in reflection of speculative uncertainty concerning the next dividend on the common stock. There was a widespread opinion, however, thatasmuch as Bethlehem paid dividends during two years of business depression there was little likelihood of their being suspended now when the midst of a period of prosperity.

Railroad shares in which there have been traces of investment buying were less active today, probably because of the further weakness of Delaware and Hudson, which dropped 3 1/2 points. However, gains of 3/4 to 1 1/4 points were registered by New York Central, Atchafalpa, Illinois Central and Northern Pacific.

Consolidated Gas, which had been heavy on reports that Governor-elect Smith would recommend that control of local public utilities be transferred from the state public service and transit commissions to the local board of estimates, rallied 3 1/2 points. United Gas improved 1 1/4 points on reports of record breaking holiday business. Some of the other strong points were Jones Brothers Tea, International Harvest, Liggett and Myers, Otis Elevator and Woolworth, the gains ranging from 3/4 to nearly 5 points.

Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent and advanced to 5 per cent before the close. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged with business quiet.

Trading in foreign exchange was extremely quiet with no important changes in rates. Demand sterling held steady just above $4.64 and French francs just below 7.45.
